

PREPARE FOR EMERGENCY WITH EFFECTIVE ALERT NOTIFICATIONS

Emergency preparedness is important both before and during a crisis. Being familiarised with the expected standard protocols (complete with hands-on coordination and execution exercise) guarantees that you stay confident and can prevent casualties.

What happens during a crisis, and are you prepared to face it?

During a crisis, it is important that your staff receive simple yet clear, and credible instructions. This is to avoid unnecessary panic in the rush to mitigate casualties or damage.

How can you achieve this?

First of all, having a Business Continuity Management (BCM) system in place is crucial to identifying your organisation's risk of exposure to internal and external threats. It is only then will you be sure of emergency preparedness. Having an automated crisis management system that provides notifications through major channels (such as SMS and instant messaging) helps your company oversee the safety of your staff as well as customer's safety.
